

Ewa Mrukwa-Kominek

- Head of the Refractive and Corneal Unit, Independent University Hospital No5 Silesian University of Medicine, Katowice, Poland(since 2009)
- Medical Director of the University Center of Ophthalmology and Oncology, Silesian University of Medicine, Katowice, Poland (since 2010)
- Member of European Society of Cataract and Refractive Surgeons (ESCRS), since 2014 is co-opted Board Member of the ESCRS, Deutsche Ophthalmologische Gesellschaft, American Academy of Ophthalmology, Societe Français d'Ophthalmologie
- Member of the editorial boards of: Cataract Refractive Surgery Today Europe, Gazeta Kuracjusza, Okulistyka po Dyplomie, Corneal Diseases, OphthaTherapy. Terapie w Okulistyce.
- Author or co-author of a total of 173 published scientific papers, including 3 monographs and 2 book chapters.
- Full impact of the publications is 23,161 and 975 points MNiSW.
- Author or co-author of 364 scientific works presented at the European and International Conferences and Symposia and 185 scientific works presented at conferences and symposia in Poland.
- Main Awards and Distinctions: Minister of Health and Social Welfare Team Award for the book entitled: 'Refractive surgery. Chosen surgical techniques' (1994), Medical University Rector's Team Award for research into Dry Eye Syndrome Therapy and Patient's Quality of Life (2006), for research into implants of Phakic Intraocular Lens in Correcting Myopia (2007) and for research into diagnostics and treatment of refraction defects (2012); Team Award "Bronze Lions" for the presentation entitled 'Changes in ocular high order aberrations following Oftagel treatment in Dry Eye Syndrome' (2005) and for the presentation entitled 'Evaluation of retinal thickness using optical coherence tomography in children with Stargardt's disease/fundus flavimaculatus' (2008) during during the DOC (Deutschen Ophthalmochirurgen) congresses.
- Biography included in the Golden Book of Polish Medicine (2008)